NOTICE

(Registration Open for Skill Development Program by ACS)

Dear Students,

We are pleased to announce a Skill Development Program organized in collaboration with the American Chemical Society (ACS) for the Master's and PhD students of the Faculty of Science. This program has been specially designed to enhance professional and personal skills for early-stage researchers, empowering them to excel in their academic and professional journeys.

Program Highlights:

- Essential Skills for Research Success: Learn scientific writing, critical thinking, and effective manuscript reading.
- Lab Safety Practices: Comprehensive training on safety protocols and hazard management.
- Mental and Emotional Well-being: Strategies for stress management and work-life balance.
- Career Pathways Beyond Academia: Explore diverse career opportunities in industry, entrepreneurship, and beyond.

Mode of Delivery: 6 Virtual Lectures by Subject Experts

Program Duration: January 2024 – March 2024

Eligibility: Master's and PhD students (all streams under the Faculty of Science)

Certification: All participants will receive a Certificate of Completion.

How to Register:
